

The film Jurassic Park (1992) was based on the successful Michael Crichton novel of the same name. Steven Spielberg directed the movie, with Crichton on board as technical advisor, and Industrial Light and Magic created the special effects.

The plot: Two palaeontologists, Dr. Alan Grant (Sam Neill) and Elli Sattler (Laura Dern) are visited by John Hammond (Richard Attenborough), Jurassic Park proprietor, and asked to spend a weekend on his island. They go together with mathematician Dr. Ian Malcolm (Jeff Goldblum) and the lawyer Gennaro, and are joined there by Hammond's grandchildren, Lex and Tim. Basically Hammond wants to prove to Gennaro that the site is safe, and sends the visitors on a dinosaur tour. Unfortunately the chief computer programmer Dennis Nedry (Wayne Knight) wants to steal some of the dinosaur embryos, and to do this he has to switch the security off. He also cuts the power to the electric fences that keep most of the dinosaurs (including T-Rex) safely confined.
